Ocean State Follies' Bristol edition will explode July 2

Charlie Hall's Ocean State Follies will bring a special Bristol edition of their comedy cabaret to Jacky's Galaxie in Bristol on Sunday, July 2.

Voted RI's Top Comedy Troupe by Rhode Island Monthly for multiple years and a few months ago by Motif magazine for this year, the Follies have entered their 15th season of poking loving fun at the "state" of Rhode Island. This special show was created to offer the large July crowds another venue to celebrate the Fourth.

Besides their usual antics, the Follies will spoof the infamous Bristol Parade, local East Bay news items, and politicians. The show will end in a high-spirited American medley. Charlie Hall will emcee the evening.

Patrons will also enjoy parodies on the Phantom of the Opera, the Linc/Laffey race, Patrick Kennedy, Richard Hatch, medical marijuana, Charlie Fogarty's forehead, the frequency of Dunkin' Donuts and more. Plus new words are always being added to the popular R.I. Flashcards skit.

Tickets are $39.95, including an Asian/American buffet, show, tax and tip. Arrival is at 6:30 p.m. Jacky's is located at 383 Metacom Ave. To reserve for the show call (401) 353-3330.
